

This reference work was inspired by the 8th in a series of biennial international ECArTE conferences, held in Greece in 2005. This book is a compilation of papers from experts in arts therapy from twelve countries, mostly European but also from further afield. ECArTE has established itself as the leading producer of publications on contemporary European arts therapy developments. Building on its previous three-volume publication: Arts – Therapies – Communication, this book grounds the vision for academics, practitioners, educationalists and health professionals who are interested in current debates, recent developments in research, education and practice. It provides a global perspective on the arts therapies, addressing a wide range of themes, issues and new initiatives.
