New Writers Competition

Short FICTION'S second annual New Writers Competition is accepting submissions 1 January – 30 March 2008. Prize is £250 or $500 plus publication in Issue 2 of Short FICTION (due out September 2008). Writers without fiction book publication (of novel or short stories) are eligible. Entries must be of previously unpublished work (in magazine or online).

Two options:

- 1) £10 entry fee/for the submission of 1 story and a copy of the journal with award-winning story in it (normal journal cost plus postage = £9.50, making competition fee only 50p... a good deal!)
- 2) £5 entry fee/covers story submission only (without a copy of journal)... useful for multiple submissions.

The judges will be the editors of the magazine. Submissions can be made by hard copy with accompanying cheque or emailed. Emailed entries must be followed with a signed and completed entry form and payment must be made by PayPal <http://www.uppress.co.uk/SFcompetition.htm>. Only verified paid entries will be considered for the competition. Submitted stories must be under 5000 words. Please include one competition entry form with each story submitted, downloadable as follows: <http://www.uppress.co.uk/pdf/fictioncompetition.pdf>
